Heiden Technology Solutions develops new cyber security product and service named Cyber Shield. Cyber Shield is specifically designed to help small to medium sized businesses protect themselves from Malware, Phishing, Denial of Service Attacks (DoS), and Advanced persistent threats (APTs).

(Wednesday, September 4th 2019) Today, Saginaw, MI-headquartered Heiden Technology Solutions have announced their cost-effective cyber security program geared to help small to medium sized businesses defend themselves from the continual onslaught of hackers and bad actors that prey on businesses today.

Carl Heiden, President/CEO of Heiden Technology Solutions stated that it is their vision to help businesses fend off these attacks and maintain their operations. “We have spent significant time and resources to develop this best of breed solution. Cyber Shield’s development did not come easy. There are a number of products and services as well as different methodologies to address these threats. We have adopted a multi-layer approach to security; not relying on any one single product or service but working to continually adapt to address new cyber hazards.”

Heiden Technology Solutions is a full-service Information Technology firm with innovative products and services to address today’s business challenges. Heiden helps businesses succeed by providing award winning 24/7 support and reliable solutions around security, cloud, network and systems design. Value and efficiency are the foundation of all we do. Our amazing team of specialists strive to provide the best in products and services.
